

Published Statement of Human and Animal Rights

When reporting experiments on human subjects, authors should indicate whether the procedures were following the ethical standards of the responsible committee on human experimentation (institutional and national) and with the Helsinki Declaration of 1975, as revised in 2000 (5). If doubt exists whether the research was conducted under the Helsinki Declaration, the authors must explain the rationale for their approach, and demonstrate that the institutional review body explicitly approved the doubtful aspects of the study. When reporting experiments on animals, authors should be asked to indicate whether the institutional and national guide for the care and use of laboratory animals was followed.

I have acknowledged all the above aspects and as the first author, I am responsible for these aspects.
